SUMMARY

I am an optimistic, hard-working speech-language pathologist turned web-developer.

My greatest joy when working on a project is brainstorming grand ideas and making them happen.

As a result of my previous work experience, I am able to recognize patterns, engage in critical thinking, and collaborate with professionals and clients. I am looking for a team that challenges me and provides opportunities to explore new technologies.

CODE

Purrrsonality Test
Created a personality test API to serve Five Factor Personality Test questions, score responses, and send results. Consumed API in a separate Rails application which pairs users with a famous internet cat. The app relies on jQuery/AJAX/JavaScript for most functionality.
